Sentence: Mark 10.29-30

There is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or fields, for Jesus' sake, who will not receive a hundredfold now in this age, with persecutions, and in the age to come eternal life.

Collect:

Merciful God, in your Son you call not the righteous but sinners to repentance: draw us away from the easy road that leads to destruction, and guide us into paths that lead to life abundant, that in seeking your truth, and obeying your will, we may know the joy of being a disciple of Jesus our Saviour; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

1st Reading: Job 23.1-9, 23.16-17

- 1 Then Job answered:
- 2 'Today also my complaint is bitter;
 his hand is heavy despite my groaning.
- 3 O that I knew where I might find him,
 that I might come even to his dwelling!
- 4 I would lay my case before him,
 and fill my mouth with arguments.
- 5 I would learn what he would answer me,
 and understand what he would say to me.
- 6 Would he contend with me in the greatness
 of his power?
 No; but he would give heed to me.
- 7 There an upright person could reason with
 him,
 and I should be acquitted for ever by my judge.
- 8 'If I go forward, he is not there;
 or backward, I cannot perceive him;
- 9 on the left he hides, and I cannot behold
 him;
 I turn to the right, but I cannot see him.
- 16 God has made my heart faint;
 the Almighty has terrified me;
- 17 If only I could vanish in darkness,
 and thick darkness would cover my face!

Hear the word of the Lord
Thanks be to God

Psalm 22.1-15

1. My God, my God, why have you forsaken me: why are you so far from helping me and from the words of my groaning?
2. My God, I cry to you by day, but you do not answer: and by night
 also I take no rest.
3. But you continue holy: you that are the praise of Israel.
4. In you our forebears trusted: they trusted, and you delivered them;
5. To you they cried and they were saved: they put their trust in you and were not confounded.
6. But as for me, I am a worm and no
 man: the scorn of all and despised by the people.
7. Those that see me laugh me to scorn:
 they shoot out their lips at me and wag
 their heads, saying,
8. 'He trusted in the Lord—let him deliver him: let him deliver him, if he delights in him.'
9. But you are he that took me out of the womb: that brought me to lie at peace
 on my mother's breast.
10. On you have I been cast since my birth: you are my God, even from my mother's womb.
11. O go not from me, for trouble is hard at hand: and there is none to help.
12. Many oxen surround me: fat bulls
 of Bashan close me in on every side.
13. They gape wide their mouths at me:
 like lions that roar and rend.

The line

"The trio soon realised Malcolm was not going away. Indeed, he was always there", I found particularly helpful.

One day I realised that God was not going away no matter how dissatisfied I was with his performance appraisal. He was always there. He was always going to be.

And then the line

"They began loving him long before they realised it." This was just what I needed to read.

I began loving God more and more, long before I realised it. Perhaps you also have been loving him more and more, long before you realised it.

Today's Homily

Story one - Fist shaking in the Lady chapel

Well, it has been a time and our media have had a lovely year bringing us every possible conceivable angle on the whole COVID thing. Pictures, graphs and editorials. Much ink, much screen space, much grumpiness and some not so polite difference of opinion. It's all out there for us to see, hear and engage with.

What is not so clear is what our response should be when we come back to that quiet, still place deep within us when we encounter the Living presence of the Risen Christ? What should we say to Him and more importantly, what is it that He might want to say to us?

It's probably not a surprise to you that often when I have gone across to say morning and evening prayer that there have been times that I have sallied forth with a torrent of understandable angst and even shaken my fist for good measure. It's probably not me at my finest and I'm pretty sure that it doesn't allow the Master to say what He has to say. It certainly doesn't ease any restrictions, but it is good, honest, raw, logical prayer. You could almost argue it from the other end and say that there might be something wrong with me if there wasn't an element of crankiness and despondency in my prayer this year. Part of my message then is one of encouragement. That if you find yourself in the fist shaking prayer mode then that is perfectly acceptable and God will not strike you down and smite you. Rather, He will calmly wait for you to finish and when it's all done, then I am sure that there are some things that our loving Father will want to say to you.

Things like mmm...

Try this itchy jumper on and see if it might fit.

What if ... He wants to say to us that it isn't about you and me. It isn't about what we can and can't do this week or next week. Pastoral care 101 was this. That it must always be about the person who is in the hospital bed. It's not about you, the visiting priest or person, your wants, your needs, your feelings. There will be time enough for that later on. When you are there in the moment, it is always about the other. The person in the bed and the person sitting beside the bed. So I think... I think .. that when I finally settle down and my fist shaking energy is finally exhausted, I think he says to me "Have you considered your brothers and sisters in ICU today? Have you thought about how their families are feeling? And here you are cranky, because you can't go and have a parma and pot at the local. Have you thought about those who have to bury their nearest and dearest today? And you're crabby because you had to have 3 gos to get the QR code to work? Really, David?..It's not about us .. what we can and can't do. It must always be about the person in the bed and those who sit beside them. Get that focus right and everything else falls into its proper perspective. End story one

Story two -Stepfather

Most of you know that my parents divorced and each remarried. Within the space of a few years I found myself with an extended family of step brothers, step sisters, a step Mother and a step Father. It was a bewildering time and I am pretty sure that I did not make it easy for my stepfather who came to live with us. It took many years and a much wider perspective to begin to understand.

I read something the other day that helped.

Paul Connolly wrote it.

"When their mum began dating Malcolm, Caitlin wouldn't look him in the eye and Penny scoffed "Nice try!" whenever he asked about her day.

When he started sleeping over, Theo dipped his toothbrush in the toilet. Malcolm endured such slights with stoicism, grace and mouth-wash.

He loved Clem and believed her insistence that they were good kids. The trio soon realised Malcolm was not going away. Indeed, he was always there.

On the sidelines at their sport, waiting in the car as their friends' parties ended, beside them inside frightening emergency departments. They began loving him long before they realised it."

This makes sense of my petty tirades in the Lady chapel and God's response to my 'How come...' and 'When... pray tell..?'

14. I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart within my breast is like melting wax.

15. My mouth is dried up like a potsherd: and my tongue clings to my gums.

Second Reading:

Hebrews 4.12-16

¹² Indeed, the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing until it divides soul from spirit, joints from marrow; it is able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart. ¹³ And before him no creature is hidden, but all are naked and laid bare to the eyes of the one to whom we must render an account. ¹⁴ Since, then, we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast to our confession. ¹⁵ For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who in every respect has been tested as we are, yet without sin. ¹⁶ Let us therefore approach the throne of grace with boldness, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

Hear the word of the Lord

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ

According to St Mark

Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

¹⁷ As he was setting out on a journey, a man ran up and knelt before him, and asked him, 'Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?' ¹⁸ Jesus said to him, 'Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone. ¹⁹ You know the commandments: "You shall not murder; You shall not commit adultery; You shall not steal; You shall not bear false witness; You shall not defraud; Honour your father and mother." ' ²⁰ He said to him, 'Teacher, I have kept all these since my youth.' ²¹ Jesus, looking at him, loved him and said, 'You lack one thing; go, sell what you own, and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.' ²² When he heard this, he was shocked and went away grieving, for he had many possessions. ²³ Then Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, 'How hard it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!' ²⁴ And the disciples were perplexed at these words. But Jesus said to them again, 'Children, how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God! ²⁵ It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for someone who is rich to enter the kingdom of God.' ²⁶ They were greatly astounded and said to one another, 'Then who can be saved?' ²⁷ Jesus looked at them and said, 'For mortals it is impossible, but not for God; for God all things are possible.' ²⁸ Peter began to say to him, 'Look, we have left everything and followed you.' ²⁹ Jesus said, 'Truly I tell you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or fields, for my sake and for the sake of the good news, ³⁰ who will not receive a hundredfold now in this age—houses, brothers and sisters, mothers and children, and fields, with persecutions—and in the age to come eternal life. ³¹ But many who are first will be last, and the last will be first.'

A Fete like last year

Due to the thing that we would all dearly like to stomp on, this year's fete will be like last year. Letters of thanks to our supportive businesses will be personally delivered but we will not be asking for any donations from them. A list of these generous businesses will be available in the pew sheet next week and we ask that where possible you could support them. November will be set aside as your opportunity to make a contribution. You can make a donation electronically, please use these details. NAB BSB: 083 -663 Account 51580-7866. Similarly you may post it through the parish office slot or pop something in the plate. For our records, it would be helpful if you could let us know that these are 'Fete donations'. It may be that you are able to offer a similar amount to what you usually give, or you may be one of the many who have been adversely affected and not be able to offer as much. The whole parish Thanks you for your support and encouragement.
