For Good Friday, 15th April and Holy Saturday 16th April we need some readers and helpers for Christ Church Hamilton. A mini Roster will appear. Please sign up if you are not travelling away.

Happy Hank hooted with hilarity when he realised that as a chap he could go to the Hamilton Hamper on Thursday at 3pm.

Lovely Lanky Lelia licked her lips for she knew that there was liquid refreshment for the ladies at the Lemon Myrtle on Thursday at 3pm

Assistance Needed

The congregation at St Peter's Glenthompson are asking for some financial assistance to help pay for the booklets provided for their Christmas Carols service last year. The booklets were outsourced and, unfortunately, cost more than was budgeted. Any small donation to assist them in paying for the booklets would be appreciated. Donations should be passed to either Jenny Rankin or Graeme Mustow. Thanks Lofty

1st Reading: Exodus 34.29-35

<sup>29</sup> Moses came down from Mount Sinai. As he came down from the mountain with the two tablets of the covenant in his hand, Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone because he had been talking with God. <sup>30</sup> When Aaron and all the Israelites saw Moses, the skin of his face was shining, and they were afraid to come near him. <sup>31</sup> But Moses called to them; and Aaron and all the leaders of the congregation returned to him, and Moses spoke with them. <sup>32</sup> Afterwards all the Israelites came near, and he gave them in commandment all that the Lord had spoken with him on Mount Sinai. <sup>33</sup> When Moses had finished speaking with them, he put a veil on his face; <sup>34</sup> but whenever Moses went in before the Lord to speak with him, he would take the veil off, until he came out; and when he came out, and told the Israelites what he had been commanded, <sup>35</sup> the Israelites would see the face of Moses, that the skin of his face was shining; and Moses would put the veil on his face again, until he went in to speak with him.

Hear the word of the Lord
Thanks be to God

Psalm 99

1 The Lord is king, let the nations tremble: he is enthroned upon the cherubim; let the earth quake.

2 The Lord is great in Zion: he is high above all nations.

3 Let them praise your great and terrible name: for holy is the Lord.

4 The Mighty One is king and loves justice: you have established equity, you have dealt righteousness and justice in Jacob.

5 O exalt the Lord our God:

and bow down before his footstool, for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among those who call upon his name: they called to the Lord and he answered.

7 He spoke to them from the pillar of cloud: they kept to his teachings and the law that he gave them.

8 You answered them, O Lord our God: you were a forgiving God to them, and pardoned their wrongdoing.

9 O exalt the Lord our God: and bow down towards his holy hill, for the Lord our God is holy.

Second Reading: 2 Corinthians 3.12-4.2

<sup>12</sup> Since, then, we have such a hope, we act with great boldness, <sup>13</sup> not like Moses, who put a veil over his face to keep the people of Israel from gazing at the end of the glory that was being set aside. <sup>14</sup> But their minds were hardened. Indeed, to this very day, when they hear the reading of the old covenant, that same veil is still there, since only in Christ is it set aside. <sup>15</sup> Indeed, to this very day whenever Moses is read, a veil lies over their minds; <sup>16</sup> but when one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. <sup>18</sup> And all of us, with unveiled faces, seeing the glory of the Lord as though reflected in a mirror, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another; for this comes from the Lord, the Spirit. <sup>1</sup> Therefore, since it is by God's mercy that we are engaged in this ministry, we do not lose heart. <sup>2</sup> We have renounced the shameful things that one hides; we refuse to practise cunning or to falsify God's word; but by the open statement of the tion and the 'Are we there yet?' that we are most exquisite and dazzlingly gorgeous. We are fantastic just for sticking it out and getting on with and struggling on, even when and especially when, we seem a very long way from the top and the path is rocky, unforgiving and a brutal challenge. We are most triumphant when we are sorely tempted to give up, but choose to go on just a little bit further. And we can't see the view around us or below and we, like the apostles, have no idea.

And this ties in rather nicely with the first lesson today.

As Moses came down from the mountain with the two tablets of the stone in his hand, he did not know that the skin of his face shone because he had been talking with God.

Moses is quite oblivious to how shiny his face was and how extraordinary he looked. He has no idea. And if that be the case with Moses is it not possible that we have no idea how marvelous we look when we have come close to God and spoken with Him and taken His commandments into our lives. What if someone told you how shiny and radiant and polished you were... you are? What if some crazy, grey haired old priest guy got up one day and told you how striking and splendid you already are. Wouldn't that be a moment of transfiguration? Might that not change us just a little bit? That would have to transfigure all of us and we could never be quite the same.

On top of Mt. Abrupt and in our parish church, heaven and earth are indeed full of your glory. And we have no idea. We dance and sing with angels, we worship with cherubim and seraphim and most of the time.... we have no idea.

Today's Homily: We have no idea

Next week's homily: Brutus at the River Jordan.

And we have no idea.. Part of the privilege of living in this part of the world is that we have the Grampians or Gariwerd on our back doorstep. There are many different walks which suit all levels of enthusiasm and abilities. Venus baths at the Grampians is a stroll and cathartic. If you're up for a stiff walk then the Picaninny is probably a good way to go. The Zumsteins walk takes you on a different scenic walk, or if you are naive and had a coffee over breakfast then Mt. Abrupt is sure to teach you a lesson or 6. No matter where you finish up, how you get there, how long it takes you, or how many kilos you lose, the view never disappoints. It doesn't matter what time of day or what season you go, it's always the same, always different, always spectacular, always gobsmacking, always healing and refreshing. There are times in the more vigorous walks where inwardly, silently and sometimes outwardly and noisily, I complain most passionately about the climb. One word comes bubbling swiftly to my lips. Why? Why am I doing this? In the gospel reading we have Peter, James and John going up a high mountain...and I reckon they would have been just like me. While on the way they most likely were complaining and wondering why they had to go up the mountain. When they got up that morning and had their fillet of fish for breakfast they would have had no idea what the day was going to bring. To all intents and purposes they were just following Jesus and having a good ol whinge. They have no idea that the mountain is a symbol of an upward journey to Heaven. It takes focus and drive, commitment and resolve to go there. It's an elevated place, a place away from the ordinary occurrences of life. It's a different scene, where different things happen. But they have no idea. And yet for a few fleeting, tantalising, mind popping moments Jesus is revealed for who He is in all His glory. And then just as swiftly the moment is gone. Like an ethereal bubble popping, the vision disappears before their eyes and they are left like idiots on the ground mumbling something about putting up tents. They have no idea. Now as a lad I was always stumped by this miracle. I preferred the story of the water into wine and all those healings and exorcisms, raising Lazarus from the dead, feeding the thousands of people, catching all those redfin and mullet. This miracle had me bamboozled because it doesn't seem to accomplish anything. Most of Jesus' miracles end up with someone cured, or bellies fed, or a person raised from the dead, but what did the Transfiguration actually "do"? After this you beaut moment of glory they just go back down the mountain again and life resumes as normal. Or does it. It will not be until much later after the resurrection that the disciples will look back and see the whole thing context. They will understand that discipleship has both cross and blood and tears, as well as glory, transcendence and magnificence. But at the time... They had no idea. And surely part of the message is that it is in the drudgery, the exer-

truth we commend ourselves to the conscience of everyone in the sight of God.

The Holy Gospel: Luke 9.28-36

The Lord be with you.
And also with you

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ
According to St Luke

Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

<sup>28</sup> Now about eight days after these sayings Jesus took with him Peter and John and James, and went up on the mountain to pray. <sup>29</sup> And while he was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes became dazzling white. <sup>30</sup> Suddenly they saw two men, Moses and Elijah, talking to him. <sup>31</sup> They appeared in glory and were speaking of his departure, which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. <sup>32</sup> Now Peter and his companions were weighed down with sleep; but since they had stayed awake, they saw his glory and the two men who stood with him. <sup>33</sup> Just as they were leaving him, Peter said to Jesus, 'Master, it is good for us to be here; let us make three dwellings, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah'—not knowing what he said. <sup>34</sup> While he was saying this, a cloud came and overshadowed them; and they were terrified as they entered the cloud. <sup>35</sup> Then from the cloud came a voice that said, 'This is my Son, my Chosen; listen to him!' <sup>36</sup> When the voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. And they kept silent and in those days told no one any of the things they had seen.

Intercessions for the Eucharist and for you to say at home

The Response to the bidding:
The response to the bidding ... "Lord, give us strength" ... is ... "And bend our hearts to your will." Lord, give us strength.... And bend our hearts to your will.

The gospel calls us to be single-minded in our service of God and others. May our prayers today be a sign of our resolve to be faithful to carry out this vocation. For the Church in Argentina and Bishop Gregory leading God's people there. For Garry our Bishop and God's people worshipping in Warrnambool. For Fr. Scott, and Reverend Robyn and all those preparing for Lent.

Lord, give us strength" ... And bend our hearts to your will

For our leaders that they may uphold the dignity of every man, woman and child. For those who come to our nation seeking refuge and for compassionate decisions to be made for their future.

Lord give us strength.... And bend our hearts to your will.

That God will bless with wisdom and love those who are called to the vocation of being a parent. For those who foster and adopt, that they may be given all that they truly need.

Lord give us strength.... And bend our hearts to your will

For our own selves as we prepare for Lent this year. That we may be disciplined and encouraged. We ask that we may be given the resolve to walk faithfully with Our Lord.

Lord give us strength.... And bend our hearts to your will

For those who have asked our prayers and those who have been anointed in the sacrament of Holy Unction. For God's gift of healing and for those who tend them.

Lord give us strength.... And bend our hearts to your will

That the Risen Christ will bring into his Father's presence the souls of those who have died. Especially those who have died as result of COVID and the recently departed Joan Wells

Lord give us strength.... And bend our hearts to will.

Lord God, giver of life; May the humility and sincerity of our prayer be a blessing for us. Give us grace to make you the centre of our lives, that we may always seek your presence, your truth and your love, for Jesus' sake Amen.--

Thought for the Week from Mothers Union Australia

Sunday 27 February 2022

Women at prayer

'All desires known': this phrase has always evoked in me that distinctive stance which I associate with authentic worship: namely, an appalled sense of self-exposure combined with a curious but profound relief, and so to write under this title has been both a discipline and a comfort. I have chosen it because I understand the Christian life to be about the integration of desire: our personal desires, our political vision, and our longing for God. So far from being in competition with one another, I believe that our deepest desires ultimately spring from the same source: and worship is the place where this can be acknowledged.

Janet Morley Preface to All Desire Known SPCK 1988, Expanded Edition 1992.

For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord, plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope. Jeremiah 29:11 O God our dance, in whom we live and move and have our being: so direct our strength and inspire our weakness that we may enter with power into the movement of your whole creation, through our partner, Jesus Christ, Amen. Morley, All Desires Known. 1992, blessing, p. 87.
