1st Reading: Proverbs 8.1-4, 8.22-31

¹ Does not wisdom call, and does not understanding raise her voice? ² On the heights, beside the way, at the crossroads she takes her stand; ³ beside the gates in front of the town, at the entrance of the portals she cries out: ⁴ 'To you, O people, I call, and my cry is to all that live. ²² The Lord created me at the beginning of his work, the first of his acts of long ago. ²³ Ages ago I was set up, at the first, before the beginning of the earth. ²⁴ When there were no depths I was brought forth, when there were no springs abounding with water. ²⁵ Before the mountains had been shaped, before the hills, I was brought forth— ²⁶ when he had not yet made earth and fields, or the world's first bits of soil. ²⁷ When he established the heavens, I was there, when he drew a circle on the face of the deep, ²⁸ when he made firm the skies above, when he established the fountains of the deep, ²⁹ when he assigned to the sea its limit, so that the waters might not transgress his command, when he marked out the foundations of the earth, ³⁰ then I was beside him, like a master worker; and I was daily his delight, rejoicing before him always, ³¹ rejoicing in his inhabited world and delighting in the human race.

Psalm 8

1. O Lord our Governor: how glorious is your name in all the earth!
2. Your majesty above the heavens is yet recounted: by the mouths of babes and sucklings.
3. You have founded a strong defence against your adversaries: to quell the enemy and the avenger.

4. When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers: the moon and the stars which you have set in order,
5. What are we, that you should be mindful of us: what are we, that you should care for us?
6. Yet you have made us little less than gods: and have crowned us with glory and honour.
7. You have given us dominion over your handiwork: and have put all things in subjection beneath our feet,
8. All sheep and oxen: and all the creatures of the field,
9. The birds of the air and the fish of the sea: and everything that moves in the pathways of the great waters.
10. O Lord our Governor: how glorious is your name in all the earth!

Second Reading: Romans 5.1-5

¹ Therefore, since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, ² through whom we have obtained access to this grace in which we stand; and we boast in our hope of sharing the glory of God. ³ And not only that, but we also boast in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, ⁴ and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, ⁵ and hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us.

Perhaps we will be most ready to bear them, when the ironing is pressed, folded and stored tidily away.

Today's Homily "Let's do some ironing".

"I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now."
On first reading of these words a sense of frustration bubbles up within me. How come I can't know the many things God wants to say to me today? I can deal with it. I can take it and by the way what exactly are those 'things'? Surely I should know, surely I have a responsibility to know, and dare I say it ...I have a right to know... and yet... the Masters words and their meaning are quite clear. Not yet. It would be irresponsible and possibly damaging for me if I were to know those 'things'. So we might look back and think about some of the painful things we have learned over the years. If we are honest and had known how adventurous and challenging and yes how painful the journey was going to be, then maybe we would not have signed on at all. We would have typed a quick letter declining God's very generous offer of the role of a cross carrying, foot washing, endlessly forgiving servant. We would have packed sun tan lotion and bathers and headed for an apartment on the Gold coast. But we didn't type that letter and here we are, sometimes years later, still signed up and showing up. We also realise that if we had given up we would have missed out on some of the most sumptuous and exquisite ministry both given and received. Moments of unlooked for, indescribable beauty and exquisite love. The undeserved moments that found us simply because we were open to the possibility. "I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now."
So I wonder what else God might have in store for us in the future. When we are ready He will whisper these things to us and lead us into situations and encounters that we could never have dreamed of. Things that we cannot bear on the 12th of June 2022, but will be ready for next week, next month or even next year. So today's gospel is really about all time. This is our experience, that we need time to understand what Jesus said, for it is often not a question of theoretical knowledge, but of things of the heart: the meaning of love, of suffering, the presence of God in our life, in others, in the 6 Church.

So the Masters words are liberating and refreshing. It's OK not to have all the answers given to us on a platter yesterday. It's OK to go on questioning and asking and listening and praying and waiting. Today's gospel is not just about the present, its about having confidence and trust and faith into the future. The world will keep turning as it always has from the beginning of time. The church always finds itself trying to understand and live its faith in the midst of social, cultural, and global circumstances that change rapidly. The Holy Spirit will keep on leading, challenging, nudging and prodding us. As we totter along through time, all we have to do is be open to the hints that he feeds us even when and especially when, we might find them unpalatable. It might have been tempting for John to devalue any new understanding of the Christian message that emerges when Jesus is no longer visibly present. But no, John places firm confidence in the Spirit as continuing the ongoing presence and revealing of Jesus within the Christian community. For John, the church does not need to fear learning and practicing its faith in Jesus in the midst of a changing world marked by Jesus' physical absence. The Spirit "will declare to you the things that are to come" In other words, the Spirit makes possible a "deep understanding of what Jesus means for us here and now in the year 2022, without betraying the core truth of Jesus' original teaching in the year nought. The trick is to be totally focussed on the present, whilst being open to what will find you in the future. And here's a story about how to do that. Imagine yourself doing the ironing. Right now, doing the ironing is the most important thing in the whole wide world. It's all you are and it's everything you are doing. You are not hanging out the washing, or typing an email or chattering with Mr. Guffoops about chooks and the footy. Right now, at this very moment, you are doing the ironing. You are not thinking about anything else. New things do await you. New things will happen; exciting and disappointing escapades will find you. Nothing surer. But at this very second you are completely absorbed in just doing the

The Holy Gospel: John 16.12-15

The Lord be with you.
And also with you

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ
According to St John

Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

¹² 'I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. ¹³ When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own, but will speak whatever he hears, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. ¹⁴ He will glorify me, because he will take what is mine and declare it to you. ¹⁵ All that the Father has is mine. For this reason I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you.

Sunday 12 JUNE 2022

Fruit of the spirit

Here is another list! Oh no! Will I ever be good enough? But I did hold back from criticising the president/ neighbour/ minister even though I knew I was right. Oh fantastic, I can tick that one off! I went to all the Lenten studies this year and know SO much more. And Yes, to self-control! I didn't splurge on birthday presents this year. Well, everybody's got too much nowadays anyway and I often don't get presents from them. Godliness isn't just about going to church. I know it's next to cleanliness so I'm getting closer. I'm not really sure about mutual affection. There are some people who go out of their way to be difficult so it wouldn't be mutual then would it? And love, it's definitely very difficult to love those who won't make an effort. They say God is love but what about all the disasters and the state of the world nowadays.

Please answer as honestly as you can and give yourself a mark out of 7.

For this very reason, you must make every effort to support your faith with goodness, and goodness with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with endurance, and endurance with godliness, and godliness with mutual affection, and mutual affection with love. 2 Peter 1:5-7

Let us pray for our neighbours in Papua New Guinea as they face increasing poverty with which comes increasing domestic violence. Communication is scarce but we pray Mothers' Union members will assist those affected by the pandemic and homelessness. May the gifts of the Spirit work in them.
